Oh for the feet that danced among
 The fields of the sweet red clover!
 For the voices clear that sang the songs,
 That sang them over and over,
 That sang them over and over!

Our hearts beat slow with years and pain,
 And we know we shall never sing again!
 We know we shall never sing again
 In the fields of the sweet red clover,
 In the fields of the sweet red clover,
 We know we shall never sing again
 In the fields of the sweet red clover!
