LONDON.

Messrs. J. M. STODDART & Co., by special and satisfactory arrangements with our English publishers and ourselves, have secured the exclusive authority to publish our Opera "The Pirates of Penzance; or, The Slave of Duty," in the United States of America. We hereby express the earnest wish that they may suffer no invasion of the rights derived from us, as the sole publishers of our work, through any attempt to put upon the market unauthorized editions.

We make this request for the following reasons: First, because we are satisfied there exists a general desire on the part of the people of both continents to come to an agreement upon the question of an international copyright, affording compensation to authors in their literary and artistic productions; Secondly, because we are by this arrangement enabled to secure the publication of our work under our own personal supervision, greatly to the benefit of the public and ourselves; and Thirdly, because by the present contract our publications will be wholly manufactured in the United States, and will be sold at as low a price, with the certainty of as wide a circulation, as if they were issued by a number of rival and unauthorized persons.

A natural arch of rock occupies the R. C. of the stage. In the distance is a calm sea, on which a schooner is lying at anchor. As the curtain rises groups of Pirates are discovered, some drinking, some playing cards. SAMUEL, the Pirate Lieutenant, is going from one group to another, filling the cups from a flask. FREDERIC is seated in a despondent attitude at the back of the scene, C. RUTH kneels at his feet.

KING. Yes, Frederic, from to-day you rank as a full-blown member of our band.

ALL. Hurrah!

FREDERIC. My friends, I thank you all, from my heart, for your kindly wishes. Would that I could repay them as they serve!

FRED. Yes, I have done my best for you. And why? It was my duty under my indentures, and I am the slave of duty. As a child I was regularly apprenticed to your band. It was through an error. No matter, the mistake was ours, not yours, and I was in honor bound by it.

SAMUEL. An error? What error?

FRED. I may not tell you. It would reflect upon my well-loved Ruth.

RUTH. (Kneeling at his feet.) Oh pardon, Frederic! pardon!
FRED. Rise, sweet one; I have long pardoned you.

(RUTH rises.)

RUTH. The two words were so much alike!

FRED. They still are, though years have rolled over their heads! (RUTH goes up with SAMUEL.) But this afternoon my obligation ceases. Individually, I love you all with affection unspeakable; but collectively, I look upon you with a disgust that amounts to absolute detestation. Oh pity me, my beloved friends, for such is my sense of duty that once out of my indentures I shall feel myself bound to devote myself, heart and soul, to your extermination.

ALL. Poor lad! poor lad! (All weep.)

KING. Well, Frederic, if you conscientiously feel that it is your duty to destroy us, we cannot blame you for acting on that conviction. Always act in accordance with the dictates of your conscience, my boy, and chance the consequences.

SAMUEL. Besides, we can offer you but little temptation to remain with us. We don't seem to make piracy pay. I'm sure I don't know why, but we don't.

FRED. I know why, but, alas! I mustn't tell you: it wouldn't be right.

KING. Why not, my boy? It's only half-past eleven, and you are one of us until the clock strikes twelve.

SAM. True, and until then you are bound to protect our interests.

ALL. Hear! hear!

FRED. Well, then, it is my duty as a pirate to tell you that you are too tender-hearted. For instance, you make a point of never attacking a weaker party than yourselves, and when you attack a stronger party you invariably get thrashed.

KING. There is some truth in that.

FRED. Then, again, you make a point of never molesting an orphan.

SAM. Of course: we are orphans ourselves, and know what it is.

FRED. Yes, but it has got about, and what is the consequence? Every one we capture says he's an orphan. The last three ships we took proved to be manned entirely by orphans, and so we had to let 'em go. One would think that Great Britain's mercantile navy was recruited solely from her orphan asylums, which we know is not the case. (Crosses R.)

SAM. But, hang it all! you wouldn't have us absolutely merciless!

FRED. There's my difficulty. Until twelve o'clock I would; after twelve o'clock I wouldn't. Was ever a man placed in so delicate a situation?

(RUTH comes down C.)

RUTH. And Ruth, your own Ruth, whom you love so well and who has won her middle-aged way into your boyish heart—what is to become of her?

KING. Oh, he will take you with him.

FRED. Well, Ruth, I feel some little difficulty about you. It is true that I admire you very much, but I have been constantly at sea since I was eight years old, and yours is the only woman's face I have seen during that time. I think it is a sweet face!

RUTH. It is—oh, it is!

FRED. I say I think it is—that is my impression. But as I have never had an opportunity of comparing you with other women, it is just possible I may be mistaken.

KING. True.

FRED. What a terrible thing it would be if were to marry this innocent person, and then find out that she is, on the whole, plain!

KING. Oh, Ruth is very well—very well indeed.

SAM. Yes, there are the remains of a fine woman about Ruth.

FRED. Do you really think so? Then I will not be so selfish as to take her from you. In justice to her and in consideration for you I will leave her behind. (Hands RUTH to KING.)

KING. No, Frederic, this must not be. We are rough men, who lead a rough life, but we are not so utterly heartless as to deprive thee of thy love. I think I am right in saying that there is not one here who would deprive thee of this inestimable treasure for all the world holds dear.

ALL. (Loudly.) Not one!

KING. No, I thought there wasn't. Keep thy love, Frederic —keep thy love! (Hands her back to FREDERIC.)

FRED. You're very good, I'm sure.

KING. Well, it's the top of the tide, and we must be off. Farewell, Frederic. When your process of extermination begins let our deaths be as swift and painless as you can conveniently make them.

FRED. I will. By the love I have for you, I swear it. Would that you could render this extermination unnecessary by accompanying me back to civilization!

KING. No, Frederic, it cannot be. I don't think much of our profession, but, contrasted with respectability, it is comparatively honest. No, Frederic; I shall live and die a pirate king.

SONG—Pirate King & Chorus

Allegro moderato.

PIANO. f

The piano introduction consists of two staves in 6/8 time. The right hand features a melodic line with eighth and sixteenth notes, while the left hand provides a rhythmic accompaniment with chords and single notes. The tempo is marked 'Allegro moderato' and the dynamic is 'f'.

KING.

The vocal line begins with a melodic phrase. Below it are two verses of lyrics. The piano accompaniment continues with a steady eighth-note pattern in both hands. The dynamic is marked 'p'.

RUTH. Oh take me with you! I cannot live if I am left behind.

FRED. Ruth, I will be quite candid with you. You are very dear to me, as you know, but I must be circumspect. You see, you are considerably older than I: a lad of twenty-one usually looks for a wife of seventeen.

RUTH. A wife of seventeen! You will find me a wife of a thousand!

FRED. No, but I shall find you a wife of forty-seven, and that is quite enough now. Ruth, tell me candidly and without reserve: compared with other women, how are you?

RUTH. I will answer you truthfully, master: I have a slight cold, but otherwise I am quite well.

FRED. I am sorry for your cold, but I was referring rather to your personal appearance. Compared with other women, are you beautiful?

RUTH. (Bashfully.) I have been told so, dear master.

FRED. Ah, but lately?

RUTH. Oh no; years and years ago.

FRED. But what do you think yourself?

RUTH. It is a delicate question to answer, but I think I am a fine woman.

FRED. That is your candid opinion?

RUTH. Yes: I should be deceiving you if I told you otherwise.

FRED. Thank you, Ruth, I believe you, for I am sure you would not practise on my inexperience. I wish to do the right thing, and if—I say, if—you are really a fine woman, your age shall be no obstacle to our union. (Shakes hands with her.)

(Chorus of girls heard in the extreme distance, "Climbing over rocky mountains," etc. See entrance of girls.)

FRED. Hark! surely I hear voices. Who has ventured to approach our all but inaccessible lair? Can it be custom-house? No, it does not sound like custom-house.

RUTH. (Aside.) Confusion! It is the voices of young girls! If he should see them I am lost.

FRED. (Climbing rocky arch R. C. and looking off L.) By all that's marvellous, a bevy of beautiful maidens!

RUTH. (Aside.) Lost! lost! lost!

FRED. How lovely, how surpassingly lovely, is the plainest of them! What grace! what delicacy! what refinement! and Ruth—Ruth told me she was beautiful!

The first system of the musical score consists of three staves. The top staff is a vocal line with a treble clef and a key signature of two flats. The middle and bottom staves are piano accompaniment, with the middle staff in a treble clef and the bottom staff in a bass clef. The piano part features a steady eighth-note accompaniment in the right hand and a more complex bass line in the left hand, including some sustained chords and a dynamic marking of f (forte).

The second system of the musical score includes the lyrics: "Let us gal - ly tread the mea - sure, Make the most of". It features a vocal line and piano accompaniment. The piano part continues with a consistent eighth-note accompaniment and includes a dynamic marking of ff (fortissimo).

The third system of the musical score includes the lyrics: "flee - ing lei - sure, Hail it as a true al - ly, Though it". It features a vocal line and piano accompaniment, maintaining the same musical style and accompaniment as the previous systems.

The fourth system of the musical score includes the lyrics: "per - ish bye - and - bye, Hail it as a true al - ly,". It features a vocal line and piano accompaniment, concluding the page with the same musical accompaniment.

The first system of music features a vocal line on a treble clef staff and a piano accompaniment on two staves (treble and bass clefs). The key signature has one flat (B-flat). The vocal line begins with the lyrics 'Though it per - ish bye - and - bye. Let us gai - ly tread the mea - sure,'. The piano accompaniment includes a wavy line labeled '8va' above the treble staff and a '2' above the bass staff. A 'M' marking is present above the vocal staff.

The third system shows the vocal line with the lyrics 'al - ly.' and the piano accompaniment. The piano accompaniment includes a '* Ped.' marking above the bass staff and a '* ff' marking above the treble staff.

The fourth system consists of piano accompaniment on two staves (treble and bass clefs). It features a complex texture with many chords and moving lines.

KATE. What a picturesque spot! I wonder where we are?
EDITH. And I wonder where papa is? We have left him ever so far behind.

ISABEL. Oh, he will be here presently. Remember, poor papa is not as young as we are, and we came over a rather difficult country.

KATE. But how thoroughly delightful it is to be so entirely alone! Why, in all probability we are the first human beings who ever set foot on this enchanting spot.

ISABEL. Except the mermaids: it's the very place for mermaids—

KATE. Who are only human beings down to the waist—
EDITH. And who can't be said, strictly, to set foot anywhere.
 Tails they may, but feet they cannot.

KATE. But what shall we do until papa and the servant arrive with the luncheon? (All listen and come down.)

EDITH. We are quite alone, and the sea is as smooth as glass.
 Suppose we take off our shoes and stockings and paddle?

ALL. Yes, yes—the very thing!

 one shoe, when FREDERIC comes forward from cave.*)

GENERAL. Dear me!

GIRLS. Against our wills, papa—against our wills!

GENERAL. Oh, but you mustn't do that. May I ask—this is a picturesque uniform, but I'm not familiar with it—what are you?

KING. We are all single gentlemen.

GENERAL. Yes, I gathered that. Anything else?

KING. No, nothing else.

EDITH. Papa, don't believe them. They are pirates—the famous Pirates of Penzance!

GENERAL. The Pirates of Penzance? I have often heard of them.

MABEL. Yes, all except this gentleman (indicating FREDERIC), who was a pirate once, but who is out of his indentures to-day.

GENERAL. But wait a bit. I object to pirates as sons-in-law.

KING. We object to major-generals as fathers-in-law. But we waive that point; we do not press it, we look over it.

GENERAL. (Aside.) Hah! an idea! (Aloud.) And do you mean to say that you would deliberately rob me of these the sole remaining props of my old age, and leave me to go through the remainder of life unfriended, unprotected, and alone?

KING. Well, yes; that's the idea.

GENERAL. Tell me, have you ever known what it is to be an orphan?

ALL THE PIRATES. (Disgusted.) Oh, dash it all!

KING. Here we are again!

GENERAL. I ask you, Have you ever known what it is to be an orphan?

KING. (Sighing.) Often.

GENERAL. Yes, orphan. Have you ever known what it is to be one?

KING. I say, often.

ALL. (Disgusted.) Often! often! often! (Turning away.)

GENERAL. I don't think we quite understand one another. I ask you, Have you ever known what it is to be an orphan? and you say "Orphan." As I understand you, you are merely repeating the word "orphan" to show that you understand me.

KING. I didn't repeat the word "often."

GENERAL. Pardon me; you did indeed.

KING. I only repeated it once.

GENERAL. True, but you repeated it.

KING. But not often.

GENERAL. Stop! I think I see where we are getting confused. When you said "orphan" did you mean "orphan," a person who has lost his parents, or "often," frequently?

KING. Oh, I beg your pardon! I see you mean frequently.

GENERAL. Ah, you said "often" frequently.

KING. No, only once.

GENERAL. Exactly, you said "often, frequently," only once

(FRED enters R. U. E. and down C.)

MABEL. Oh, Frederic, cannot you reconcile it with your conscience to say something that will relieve my father's sorrow?

FRED. I will try, dear Mabel, but why does he sit, night after night, in this draughty old ruin?

GENERAL. Why do I sit here? To escape from the pirates' clutches I described myself as an orphan, and I am no orphan. I came here to humble myself before the tombs of my ancestors, and to implore their pardon for the disgrace I have brought upon them.

FRED. But you forget, sir. You only bought the property a year ago, and the stucco on your baronial castle is scarcely dry.

GENERAL. Frederic, in this chapel are ancestors; you cannot deny that. I don't know whose ancestors they were, but I know whose ancestors they are, and I shudder to think that their descendant by purchase (if I may so describe myself) should have brought disgrace upon what I have no doubt was an unstained escutcheon.

FRED. Be comforted. Had you not acted as you did, these reckless men would assuredly have called in the nearest clergyman, and have married your large family on the spot.

GENERAL. I thank you for your proffered solace, but it is unavailing. At what time does your expedition march against these scoundrels?

FRED. At eleven, and before midnight I hope to have atoned for my involuntary association with these pestilent scourges by sweeping them from the face of the earth.—And then, my Mabel, you will be mine!

GENERAL. Are your devoted followers at hand?

FRED. They are; they only wait my orders.

Detailed description: This is a musical score for a song. It consists of eight staves. The first three staves are vocal lines with lyrics: 'go! At last they real - ly go!', 'go! At last they real - ly, real - ly go!', and 'go! At last they real - ly, real - ly go!'. The fourth and fifth staves are vocal lines with lyrics: 'go! We go, we go, we go, we go!' and 'go! We go, we go, we go, we go!'. The sixth staff is a vocal line with lyrics: 'go! At last they real - ly, real - ly go!'. The seventh and eighth staves are piano accompaniment. The piano part begins with a forte (f) dynamic. The right hand features a melodic line with some passages marked 8va..... and 8va... The left hand provides a steady accompaniment.

(MABEL tears herself from FRED, and exits R., followed by her sisters, consoling her. The GENERAL and others follow the Police off L. FREDERIC remains alone.)

C KING.

For some ridiculous reason, to which, however, I've no desire to be dis-

-loyal, Some person in authority—I don't know who—very likely the Astronomer

Royal, Has decided that, although for such a beastly month as February, twenty-eight days as a rule are plenty : One year in every four his days shall be reckoned as nine and twenty. Through some singular coincidence—I shouldn't be surprised if it were owing to the agency of an ill-natured fairy, You are the victim of this clumsy arrangement, having been born in leap year on the twenty-ninth of Feb-ruary. And so, by a simple arithmetical process, you'll easily dis-cover That tho' you've lived twenty-one years, yet, if we go by birthdays, you're only five and a little bit

FRED. Upon my word, this is most curious,
Most absurdly whimsical. Five and a quarter!
No one would think it to look at me.

RUTH. You are glad now, I'll be bound, that you spared us.
You would never have forgiven yourself when you discovered that you had killed two of your comrades.

FRED. My comrades?

KING. I'm afraid you don't appreciate the delicacy of your position. You were apprenticed to us—

FRED. Until I reached my twenty-first year.

KING. No, until you reached your twenty-first birthday (producing document), and, going by birthdays, you are as yet only five and a quarter.

FRED. You don't mean to say you are going to hold me to that?

KING. No, we merely remind you of the fact, and leave the rest to your sense of duty.

FRED. (Wildly.) Don't put it on that footing. As I was merciful to you just now, be merciful to me. I implore you not to insist on the letter of your bond just as the cup of happiness is at my lips.

RUTH. We insist on nothing. We content ourselves with pointing out to you your duty.

FRED. Well, you have appealed to my sense of duty, and my duty is only too clear. I abhor your infamous calling, I shudder at the thought that I have ever been mixed up with it, but duty is before all. At any cost, I will do my duty.

KING. Bravely spoken! Come, you are one of us once more.

FRED. Lead on, I follow! (Suddenly.) Oh, horror!

KING and RUTH. What is the matter?

FRED. Ought I to tell you? No! no! I cannot do it; and yet, as one of your band—

KING. Speak out, I charge you, by that sense of conscientiousness to which we have never yet appealed in vain.

FRED. General Stanley, the father of my Mabel—

KING and RUTH. Yes! yes!

FRED. He escaped from you on the plea that he was an orphan?

KING. He did.

FRED. It breaks my heart to betray the honored father of the girl I adore, but as your apprentice I have no alternative.
It is my duty to tell you that General Stanley is no orphan.

KING and RUTH. What?

FRED. More than that, he never was one!

KING. Am I to understand that to save his contemptible life he dared to practise on our credulous simplicity? (FRED nods as he weeps.) Our revenge shall be swift and terrible. We will go and collect our band and attack Tremorden Castle this very night.

FRED. But—

KING. Not a word! he is doomed!

The first system of the musical score consists of three vocal staves and a piano accompaniment. The vocal parts are in treble clef with a key signature of one sharp (F#). The lyrics are: "way! to - night, . . . to - night, . . . to - night . . . the trai - tor dies! . . . to -". The piano accompaniment is in bass clef and features a steady eighth-note accompaniment in the right hand and a more active bass line in the left hand.

night! a - way!

The second system continues the musical score. It features three vocal staves and a piano accompaniment. The lyrics are: "night! a - way!". The piano accompaniment includes a dynamic marking of ff (fortissimo) in the right hand, indicating a strong, loud passage. The vocal parts continue with the same melodic line as in the first system.
