SONGS OF ERIN.

THE FIFTY IRISH SONGS which compose this book are almost entirely drawn from the unpublished portion of the great Petrie Collection of the music of Ireland, which is about to be issued by Messrs. BOOSEY on behalf of the Irish Literary Society of London. They fairly represent the three divisions of music recognised by the ancient Irish:—The Gauntree, which was provocative of mirth and frolic and excited spirits as exhibited in the jig and reel tunes, songs of occupation and quick-step marches: The Golltree or sorrowful music, to be found in its lamentations and sadder love songs; and The Soontree or sleep-disposing tunes, illustrated by the lullabies and fairy slumber songs.

Some of the Lyrics are adaptations from the early or mediæval Gaelic, a few others are based upon Hiberno-English folk songs, but the main body of them are original, though care has been taken to write them in characteristic Irish metres, not a few of which are now thus employed for the first time in connection with music.

THE SONG OF THE ROSE.

The Rose of Spring forth venturing
 Too soon to trust the zephyr with her worth,
 Her crimson smiles and fragrant wiles
 May waste instead upon the piercing North.
 For balmy blisses, his icy kisses
 Fall fast and faster upon her head;
 While, one by one, with woe foredone,
 She weeps, and weeps away her petals red.

Ye maidens fair, now have a care
 How ye too dare that stricken rose's fate!
 O, bide in bud, lest frost and flood
 Mar your sweet beauties with as sudden hate.
 For she who grieves that her gay leaves
 Unfold not sooner in the Summer sun,
 And tempts her fate, shall find too late
 Love over-rash may into ruin run.

THE ONLY ONE FOR ME.

My love she is far sweeter
Than any flower that blows,
Her little ear's a lily
Her velvet cheek a rose;
Her locks like gillygowans
Hang golden to her knee.
Of all the girls in Ireland,
She's the only one for me.

Her eyes are fond forget-me-nots,
And no such snow is seen
Upon the heaving hawthorn bush
As crests her bodice green.
The thrushes when she's talking
Sit listening on the tree,
Oh were I King of Ireland,
She's the only Queen for me.

CHANGING HER MIND.

As I rowled on my side-car to Santry Fair,
 I chanced round a corner on Rose Adair,
 Her shoes in her hands, as she took the track,
 And a fowl in a basket upon her back.
 "Step up Miss Rose! Och that bird's luck,
 Attendin' the fair as Rose's duck,
 As Rose's duck, as Rose's duck!"
 "No! Shawn Magee, the bird's a goose,
 And to travel with two, there's no sort of use."

I couldn't but laugh, though I'd had it hot,
 But I fired, as I passed her, one partin' shot.
 "The poor second gander that got the worst,"
 Says I, "must leave Rose to mind the first.
 The creature must fly and boldly try
 To seem a swan in some girl's eye,
 Some other girl's eye, some other girl's eye.
 Good day to you, Rose, for I'd best push on,
 And perhaps at the fair I'll prove some girl's swan."

But hardly a furlong away I'd flown,
 When plainly behind me I heard her moan.
 In a breath I was back, where she limped forlorn,
 With her purty foot pierced by a thumpin' thorn.
 With one soft squeeze I gave her ease;
 Then turning kind, says she, "I find
 I'm changing my mind,-I've changed my mind."
 "Change more," says I. "What's that?" says she.
 "Your name to mine. Be Rose Magee!"

LOST LIGHT OF MY EYES.

Oh, why was I left and he taken instead,
 Mochuma, Mochuma! my heart and my head?
 Cold, cold, dark and speechless he lies on his bed;
 Cold, cold, dark and silent the night dew is shed,
 But hot, fierce and swift fall the tears for my dead.
 Oh, why was I left and he taken instead?

Oh, why was I left and he taken away,
 My bright headed Donal, my pride and my stay?
 His manly cheek reddened with the sun's rising ray,
 And he shone in his strength like the sun at midday,
 But a cloud of black darkness has hid him away,
 My hope and my comfort, my joy and my stay.

'Neath that black cloud of sorrow my lost one he lies,
 And the heart in my bosom to think of it dies,
 That day after day the dear sun will arise
 To comfort our hearts from his home in the skies,
 But never, ah! never I'll see you arise,
 Lost warmth of my bosom, lost light of my eyes!

THE STRATAGEM.

Who'd win a heart must learn the art
 To hide what he's about.
 When Kate I met, too soon I let
 My loving secret out.
 In vain I'd sigh, in vain I'd try
 Each trick of eye or speech;
 Advance, retire, neglect, admire,
 The rogue I could not reach
 Then I grew warm and in a storm
 Against her out I blew,
 But she stood fast before my blast
 And raging I withdrew.

Then I began a different plan,
 I went to Rose Maguire,
 Who'd had her scene with Con Mulqueen,
 And asked her to conspire.
 Says she, "Avick, we'll try the trick."
 And so we shammed sweethearts,
 Till Con grew vexed and Kate perplexed,
 So well we played our parts:
 And when we found them turning round
 The very way we wanted,
 Our stratagem we owned to them
 And got our pardon granted.

THE STOLEN HEART.

I was a maiden fair and fond,
Smiling, singing all the day,
Till Maguire with looks of fire
He stole my heart away.
The gardener's son, as he stood by,
Blossoms four did give to me:
The pink, the rue, the violet blue,
And the red, red rosy tree.

Lass, for your lips the sweet clove pink,
For your eyes the violets blue;
The rose to speak your damask cheek,
For memory the rue.
Oh, but my love at first was fond,
Now, alas, he's turned untrue,
My rose and pink and violet shrink,
But tears keep fresh the rue.

THE STOLEN HEART.

(Air. Smah dunna hoc.)

Allegretto.

The piano introduction consists of two systems of music. The first system shows the right hand with a treble clef and a key signature of one flat (B-flat), and the left hand with a bass clef. The music is in 3/4 time and begins with a mf dynamic. The second system continues the piano accompaniment, featuring flowing sixteenth-note patterns in the left hand and chords in the right hand.

The first system of the vocal line begins with a treble clef and a key signature of one flat. The lyrics are: "1. I was a maid - en fair and fond,". The piano accompaniment continues below, with a mp dynamic marking above the vocal line.

The second system of the vocal line continues with the lyrics: "Smil - - ing, sing - - ing all the day,". The piano accompaniment features a rhythmic pattern of eighth and sixteenth notes.

The third system of the vocal line concludes with the lyrics: "Till . Ma-guire with looks of fire He". The piano accompaniment continues with a f dynamic marking above the vocal line.

THE MELODY OF THE HARP.

Oh! Harp of Erin what glamour gay,
 What dark despairing are in thy lay?
 What true love slighted thy sorrow wells,
 What proud hearts plighted thy rapture tells.
 Round thy dim form lamenting swarm
 What Banshees dread; till, glowing warm,
 A heavenly iris of hope upsprings
 From out the tumult that shakes thy strings.

[The chief dejected, with drooping brow,
 Aroused, erected, is hearkening now,
 The while abhorrent of shame and fear
 Thy tuneful torrent invades his ear.
 He calls his clan: "Who will and can
 The slogan follow in Valour's van?"
 Then forward thunder the gallant Gael
 And death and plunder are o'er the Pale.]

The child is calling through fever dreams;
 When, softly falling as faery streams,
 Thy magic Soontree his soul shall sweep.
 Into the country of blessed sleep.
 To ears that heed not their longing moan
 Let lovers plead not with words alone,
 But seek thine aid. The haughtiest maid
 Will pause by thy sweet influence swayed;
 Until the ditty so poignant proves,
 She melts to pity and melting loves.

THE BEAUTIFUL CITY OF SLIGO.

We may tramp the earth for all that we're worth,
 But what odds where you and I go?
 We shall never meet a spot so sweet
 As the beautiful City of Sligo.

Oh, sure she's a Queen in purple and green,
 As she shimmers and glimmers her gardens between;
 And away to Lough Lene the like isn't seen
 Of her river a-quiver with shadow and sheen,
 The beautiful City of Sligo.

Though bustle and noise are some folks' joys,
 Your London just gives me ver-ti-go,
 You can hear yourself talk when out you walk
 Thro' the beautiful City of Sligo.

Oh, sure she's a Queen, &c.

As an artist in stones a genius was Jones,
 Whom so queerly they christened In-i-go,
 But he hadn't the skill to carve a Grass Hill
 For the beautiful City of Sligo.

Oh, sure she's a Queen, &c.

Then for powder and puff and cosmetical stuff,
 Dear girls to Dame Fashion, ah! why go?
 When Dame Nature supplies for tresses and eyes
 Such superior dyes down in Sligo.

Oh, sure she's a Queen, &c.

THE BLACKBIRD AND THE WREN.

Once the blackbird called unto the solemn crow,
 "O why do you for ever in mourning go?"
 Quoth the crow, "I lost my own true love, alack!
 And thereafter for ever I go all in black."
 Then the blackbird sighed from out the sally bush,
 "Once I too fell courting a fair young thrush.
 Oh, but she deceived and grieved me, Oh, but she turned false, false, O!
 And ever since in mourning I too go!"

Last the little wren he piped, "If we were men,
 Faith, 'tis we could find us sweethearts, eight, nine and ten.
 Then if one grew cold or turned unfaithful, O!
 It is off to another one we each could go."
 "Perhaps," replied the crow, "that plan of yours might work
 If we were living in the land of the Turk,
 But in Christian climes a woman's just as free to give you pain!
 And so, my friends, in feathers we'll remain."

REMEMBER THE POOR.

Oh! remember the poor when your fortune is sure,
 And acre to acre you join;
 Oh! remember the poor, though but slender your store,
 And you ne'er can go gallant and fine.
 Oh! remember the poor when they cry at your door
 In the raging rain and blast;
 Call them in! Cheer them up with the bite and the sup,
 Till they leave you their blessing at last.

The red fox has his lair, and each bird of the air
 With the night settles warm in his nest,
 But the King Who laid down His celestial crown
 For our sakes. He had nowhere to rest.
 Oh! the poor were forgot till their pitiful lot
 He bowed Himself to endure;
 If your souls ye would make, for His Heavenly sake,
 Oh! remember, remember the poor.

THE HEROES OF THE SEA.

I'll tell you of a wonder, that will stiffen up your hair,
That happened two poor fishermen convenient to Cape Clear.
They just had run their boat afloat, they'd hardly gripped an oar,
When their dog leapt in, their cat stepped in, that ne'er did so before.

Now what overcame the creatures to start from shore?

Says one brother: "What's come o'er them two, who ne'er on land agree,
To settle up their difference a - this-way on the sea?"

"I consave," replied the other, "'tis the portent we could wish
For a powerful take of pilchard, since that same's their favourite fish.

'Tis a symptom, for sure, of a power of fish!"

Well! when the rising moon revealed a swiftly rushing shoal,
Their net they shot and found they'd got a purty tidy haul.
But when a dozen yards of mesh they'd plumped into the hold,
They saw their fish were fine say-rats, which made their blood run cold,
As around and around them they screeched and rolled.

But ere each rat could rip his way from out the noosin' net,
Bedad, the jaws of Towzer or the claws of Tom he met.
Then safely our two fishermen rowed home from out the bay,
And Tom and Towzer from that time were haroes you may say,
Round about the country-side, many and many a day.

THE BLACK PHANTOM.

On for ever, on for ever,
 Unbeknown beneath the night,
O mo chuma! O mo chuma!
 Stole the silent, searching blight,
 Till it struck us with a shiver,
 Shaking wide its woeful curse,
 Like the white plumes of a hearse.

Down we dug, but only showered
 Poison'd praties o'er the slope —
O mo chuma! O mo chuma!
 Hoping yet agin all hope,
 Till, at long lost overpower'd,
 In the gloomy gath'ring shades
 We should rest our useless spades.

While, around us ghostly shadows,
 Phantoms of our fathers' dead,
O mo chuma! O mo chuma!
 Roamed and roamed with ceaseless tread,
 Weeping, wailing thro' the meadows,
 Fit to melt a heart of stone.
 Ochone! and ochone!

Then we knew for solemn certain
 That the poison breathing cloud —
O mo chuma! O mo chuma!
 Surely yet would be our shroud,
 Still would draw its cruel curtain
 Closer still round child and wife,
 Till it strangled out their life.
O mo chuma! O mo chuma!

AWAY TO THE WARS.

When the route is proclaimed thro' the old barrack yard,
 To part from our sweethearts it surely is hard!
 But smother the sigh, boys, and swallow the tear,
 And comfort the darlings with words of good cheer.
 While the bugles they blow so gaily oh!
 And away to the battle we marching go.

Then it's "Right about face," and we're clearing the street,
 "Good luck" and "God bless you!" from all that we meet,
 While all of the lazy ones bounce from their beds,
 And up go their windies and out go their heads.
 While the bugles they blow so gaily oh!
 And away to the battle we marching go.

Now it's "Halt, Royal Irish!" now "Dress by the left!"
 And on to the Quay through the crowd we have cleft;
 Here's cheers for Old Ireland, with twenty cheers more,
 And off with our ship from the Emerald shore.

Lovely Anne, oh! lovely Anne!
 Oh hearken to my bitter cry!
 Alone on rugged Slievenaman,
 For your fond sake I lie;
 For you I've fled my friends, fled my clan,
 Fair Saxon, have you turned untrue?
 And has my lovely Anne, my lovely Anne,
 But brought me here to rue?

Lovely Anne, oh, lovely Anne,
 Since darkly here I laid me down,
 How oft the wind-swept cannavan,
 Has seem'd your flutt'ring gown,
 And once a maid, with bright milking can,
 Brush'd hitherward across the dew,
 "'Tis she, my lovely Anne, my lovely Anne!"
 She turned and frown'd me through.

Lovely Anne, oh lovely Anne!
 Cold morn is mounting o'er the height,
 And your forsaken Irishman
 Afar must take his flight.

FAREWELL NOW, MISS GORDON.

Farewell! now, Miss Gordon, my day dream is over
And I march in the morn with our Royal young Rover.
Yet peace be about you both sleeping and waking,
Though I live on without you with a heart nigh to breaking.

Oh, have you forgotten, oh, have you forgotten,
When I found the white heath all among the moor cotton,
How you wore it, on your bosom, for a whole week together?
Is my love flung away with that spray of white heather?

And do you remember, oh, do you remember,
When the falling star flashed that bright night of September;
How your heart's wish I read in your rapt look of longing?
Have you crushed that hope dead, to my heart's bitter wronging?

But with lips still locked tight, at your pride's stern commanding,
As a statue death white, here before me you're standing.
Woe's me we part thus! yet if so we must sever,
Farewell now, Miss Gordon, oh, farewell for ever.

Who's not heard of Eva Toole,
 Munster's purest, proudest jewel,
 Queen of Lim'rick's lovely maidens,
 Kerry's charming girls?
 As her gliding course she takes
 Like a swan across the lakes,
 With her voice of silver cadence,
 And her smile of pearls!
 Oh! the eyes of Eva Toole!
 Now why would not Cromwell cruel,
 Just have called two centuries later
 Here on Carrig height?
 For one angry azure flash
 From beneath her ebon lash!—
 And away old Noll should scatter
 Out of Eva's sight.

Is't describe you, Eva Toole?
 As she danced last night at Shrule,
 Her two feet like swallows skimmin'
 Up and down the floor;
 Or the curtsey that she dropped
 Ev'ry time the music stopped,
 Not the oldest men or women
 Saw such grace before.
 Yet altho' you bore the rule
 O'er us all then, Eva Toole,
 Ne'er a one but I was in it
 Of your sweethearts fine.
 And my heart's in such a riot,
 That to keep the crayture quiet
 I am runnin' round this minute
 Just to make you mine!

THE FALLING STAR.

On my heaven he flashed, as the meteor star
Out of night will flame from afar.
Ah, how could I escape his spell?
Deep, deep into my heart he fell.
Ochone!

I believed the stars that burn above
Shone less true than his eyes of love.
All their lamps beam on and on,
But, my falling star, thou art gone.
Ochone!

And a new love claims my fealty now,
Scant of speech and stern of brow.
Until death I own his claim.
Sorrow is my new love's name.

KITTY OF THE COWS.

When Kate gives the warning
 For the milking in the morning,
 E'en the cow known for horning comes running to her pail.
 All the lambs they play about her,
 And the little bonneens snout her,
 While their parents they salute her wid a twist of the tail,
 Just as if they said, "You darling, God bless you!"

When we rest from our labour,
 And, neighbour wid neighbour,
 Draw in from the sun to the shelter of the tree,
 Wid the new milk and murphies
 You come trippin' out to serve us,
 All the boys' hearts beguilin', alanna machree!
 While each one of us whispers, "God bless you!"

But there's one sweeter hour,
 When the sun has lost his power
 And the shadows they come creeping along the dewy land,
 Then sweet Kitty I go stalking,
 Till away we two are walking,
 And 'tis pleasantly we're talking, wid my one hand in her hand
 And the other slipped around her and welcome!

THE KING'S CAVE.

Rash Son, return! Yon shores that dazzle
 With glowing pleasaunce, glittering plain,
 And crystal keep is not Hy-Brazil,
 But some false phantom of the main.
 And yon bright band thy vision meeting,
 Their warbled welcome hither fleeting—
 Oh, trust not to their siren greeting,
 Oh, wave not, wave not back again.
 But veil thine eyes from their entreating
 And list not their enchanting strain.

O Sovran Sire, no cruel vision
 Compels my curragh o'er the deep!
 Yea, have we seen the land Elysian,
 Hy-Brazil out of Ocean leap.
 None ever knew it smiling nearer,
 Or hearkened yet, a blessed hearer,
 Its Virgin Chorus chanting clearer
 O'er lulled Atlantic's cradled sleep.
 That strain again! What psalm sincerer
 From Angel harps to Earth could sweep.

With hand to brow the monarch hoary
 Stood rapt upon the Western ray,
 Till in a gulf of golden glory
 The bright bark melted o'er the bay.
 Then cracked the glass of calm asunder!
 Then roared the cave the sea cliff under!
 Then sprang to shore, with hoofs of thunder,
 Mannanan's steeds of ghostly grey.
 Yet ere the shock, a cry of wonder,
 "Hy-Brazil's here!" rose far away.

THE ALARM.

Hurry down, hurry down, hurry down ever,
From the wrack-ridden mountain and yellow, rushing river,
Stern horsemen and footmen with spear, axe and quiver,
Oh, hurry down, hurry down, your land to deliver.
Haste, oh haste, for in cruel might clustering
Far and near the fierce Nordman is mustering,
Haste, oh haste, or the daughters ye cherish,
The bride of your bosom shall far more than perish.

Lo! how he toils down that narrow pass yonder,
Ensnared by his spoils and oppressed by his plunder!
Flash on him, crash on him, God's fire and thunder!
And scatter and shatter his fell ranks asunder.
Oh, smite the wolf, ere he slinks from the slaughter,
Oh, rend the shark, ere he wins to deep water.
Pursue and hew him to pieces by the haven,
And feast with his red flesh the exulting sea raven.

THE SONG OF THE FAIRY KING.

Bright Queen of women, oh, come away,
 Oh, come to my kingdom strange to see:
 Where tresses flow with a golden glow,
 And white as snow is the fair body.
 Beneath the silky curtains of arching ebon brows,
 Soft eyes of sunny azure the heart enthral,
 A speech of magic songs to each rosy mouth belongs,
 And sorrowful sighing can ne'er befall.

Oh bright are the blooms of thine own Innisfail
 And green is her garland around the West;
 But brighter flowers and greener bowers
 Shall all be ours in that country blest.
 Or can her streams compare to the runnels rich and rare
 Of slow yellow honey and swift red wine,
 That softly slip to the longing lip
 With magic flow through that land of mine?

We roam the earth in its grief and mirth,
 But move unseen of all therein;
 For before their gaze there hangs the haze,
 The heavy haze of their mortal sin.
 But oh! our age it wastes not; for our beauty tastes not
 Of Evil's tempting apple and droops and dies.
 Cold death shall slay us never but for ever and for ever
 Love's stainless ardours shall illumine our eyes.

Then, Queen of women, oh, come away,
 Far, far away to my fairy throne,
 To my realm of rest in the magic West,
 Where sin and sorrow are all unknown.

Larghetto.

The first system of the musical score consists of three staves. The top staff is the vocal line, starting with a whole rest followed by a half note G4, then a quarter note A4, and a quarter note B4. The middle staff is the piano accompaniment, featuring a series of eighth-note chords in the right hand and a simple bass line in the left hand. The key signature has three flats (B-flat, E-flat, A-flat), and the time signature is common time (C). Dynamics include a piano (p) marking and a first ending bracket labeled "1 Bright".

The second system continues the vocal line with the lyrics: "Queen of wo - men, oh, come a - way, Oh, come to my king - dom". The piano accompaniment continues with similar rhythmic patterns. The dynamics include a piano (p) marking and a pianissimo (pp) marking.

The third system continues the vocal line with the lyrics: "strange to see: Where tress - es flow with a gol - den glow, And". The piano accompaniment continues with similar rhythmic patterns. The dynamics include a piano (p) marking.

CLARE'S DRAGOONS.

When on Ramillies' bloody field
 The baffled French were forc'd to yield,
 The victor Saxon backward reel'd
 Before the charge of Clare's men.
 The flags we conquer'd in that fray
 Look lone in Ypres choir they say:
 We'll win them company to-day
 Or bravely die, like Clare's men.

Vive la! for Ireland's wrong,
 And vive la! for Ireland's right,
 Vive la! in battle throug
 For a Spanish steed and sabre.

Another Clare is here to lead,
 The worthy son of such a breed,
 The French expect some famous deed
 When Clare leads on his warriors.
 Our Colonel comes from Brian's race,
 His wounds are in his breast and face,
 The gap of danger's still his place,—
 The foremost of his Squadron.

Vive la! for Ireland's wrong,
 And vive la! for Ireland's right,
 Vive la! in battle throug
 For a Spanish steed and sabre.

Oh, comrades think how Ireland pines
 For exiled lords, and rifled shrines,—
 Her dearest hope the ordered lines
 And bursting charge of Clare's men.
 Then fling your green flag to the sky,
 Be Limerick your battle cry,
 And charge till blood floats fetlock high
 Around the track of Clare's men.

Vive la! for Ireland's wrong,
 Vive la! for Ireland's right,
 Vive la! in battle throug
 For a Spanish steed and sabre.

THE BOWER IN MY BREAST.

I once loved a boy who would come and go,
 Whenever I made my request;
 Till, the truth for to tell, I loved him so well
 That I built him a bower in my breast,
 In my breast,
 A bower of green hope in my breast.

But the times grew so black, that at last he should sail
 His fortune to seek in the West.
 Long sorry was I to bid him good-bye;
 For I'd built him a bower in my breast,
 In my breast,
 A bower of green hope in my breast.

O his letters were loving, his letters were long,
 That came floating far out of the West.
 Then cold, short and few they turned, wirrorasthrue!
 And good-bye to the bower in my breast,
 In my breast,
 The bower of green hope in my breast.

Founded on an old song.

THE BOWER IN MY BREAST.

(Air. "I once loved a boy.")

Allegretto.

The musical score is written in treble and bass clefs with a key signature of one sharp (F#) and a 3/4 time signature. It consists of five systems of music, each with a vocal line and a piano accompaniment. The piano part includes dynamics such as mf, p, and f. The vocal line includes lyrics and a first ending bracket labeled '1. I'. The lyrics are: "once loved a boy who would come and go, When - e'er I made my re - quest; Till, the truth for to tell, I loved him so well That I built him a bow'r in my breast, — A bow'r of green hope in my breast. —"

H. 2870

★ Another air with the same name has been noted in Ireland. It is in the minor key and the melody is totally different. The similarity of the rhythm suggests that both airs were settings of the same words.

Marching, forced marching,
 At stretch of speed, so strong the need,
 Marching, forced marching
 And Bobs himself to lead.
 Horse, foot and gun at call,
 Like wool upon a ball,

Marching and marching,
 For weeke and weeks, o'er moors and peaks;
 Marching and outmarching
 Ten thousand grand old Greeks.
 Till Xenophon's harangues
 Of stades and parasangs,
 By all the powers this march of ours

 So swift and far by sun and star!
 Oh, marching and marching
 Away for Candahar.

 But through the Afghan net
 We boys will break, and no mistake,
 And save the city yet.

I SHALL NOT DIE FOR LOVE OF THEE.

O Woman, shapely as the swan,
 Shall I turn wan for looks from thee?
 Nay bend those blue love-darting eyes
 On men unwise, they wound not me.
 Red lips and ripe and rose soft cheek,
 Shall limbs turn weak and colour flee,
 And languorous grace and foam white form,
 Shall still blood storm because of ye?

Thy slender waist, thy cool of gold
 In ringlets rolled around thy knee,
 Thy scented sighs and looks of flame
 They shall not tame my spirit free.
 For, Woman, shapely as the swan,
 A wary man hath nurtured me;
 White neck and arm, bright lip and eye,
 I shall not die for love of ye.

O'DONNELL'S MARCH.

Oh! have you heard the tidings?
 Limerick's aflame,
 Kerry and the Ridings
 Out in Red Hugh's name:
 Till chiefs so lately mocking
 Around his flag are flocking
 And Dublin's towers are rocking
 At O'Donnell's fame.

The rain it ran in fountains,
 Then there fell such frost,
 That Slieve Phelim's mountains
 Swift as fire he crossed.
 Past every Saxon Warder
 He's broke the Southern Border,
 And struck in battle order
 Mountjoy's startled host.

Then hail to Hugh O'Donnell!
 Hail, Clan Donnell, hail!
 Out of far Tyrconnell
 Hosting to Kinsale!
 Oh, heroes of Blackwater,
 Stay not your swords of slaughter,
 Until your foes ye scatter
 Headlong through the Pale.

THE DEATH OF OSCAR.

I sought my own son over Gowra's black field,
Where the host of the Fians was shattered,
Where fell all our mighty ones, and helmet and shield
O'er the red earth lay shamefully scattered.
I sought my own Oscar and my proud heart upheaped,
As at last on a lone ridge I found him,
His stern hand still clinging to the sword that had reaped
Swathe on swathe of the dead foes around him.

He held out his arms, though the drear mist of death
Had begun o'er his bright eyes to gather.
"I thank God," he faltered with his failing breath,
"That thou still art unhurt, Oh, my father?"
Then down, down I knelt by my heart's dearest one,
All else beside him forgetting;
Till Oscar's proud spirit passed forth like the sun
In a red sea of glory setting.

(Air. She hung her petticoat up to dry.)

As she sat spinning beside her door,
 Sweet Kitty Kelly of Farranfore,
 In dropped, as oft'n he'd done before,
 Ned Byrne, the young Schoolmaster.
 He took the seat that she signed him to
 And then that same to her side he drew,
 When up there hurried big Tom McHugh
 Who lived by lath and plaster.
 He took the seat that Miss Kate supplied
 And drew that same to her other side
 "Now do spake one at a time", she cried,
 And we'll get on the faster.

Says Ned, "Miss Kelly, but don't you see,
 My business needs but yourself and me?"
 "Then since, at present at least, we're three,
 'Twill have to wait", says Kitty.
 "Now, Tom Mc Hugh, 'tis your turn to start!"
 "Well then, Miss Kitty, first come apart?"
 "And hurt poor Ned to the very heart!
 Your selfish plans I pity."
 But since I've guessed what you're both about,
 P'raps now 'tis best not to lave you in doubt;
 So here's the whole of the murder out —
 I'm promised to Daniel Whitty.

RODDY MORE THE ROVER.

Of all the rovin' Jacks that e'er to Farranfore came over
 As paramount I'd surely count ould Roddy More the Rover;
 Wid steeple hat and stiff cravat and nate nankeen knee breeches
 And on his back a pedlar's pack just rowlin' o'er wid riches.

[For so it was when o'er the hill his coat-tails they'd come flyin',
 The sharpest tongue of all was still, the crossest child quit cryin',
 Ould women even left their tay, ould men their glass of toddy,
 An' spoon in hand, a welcome grand would wave and wave to Roddy.]

Then when his treasures he'd unlade in view of all the village,
 In from her milkin' ran the maid, each boy from out the tillage,
 The while the rogue, in each new vogue, the lasses he'd go drapin',
 Until their lads his ribbons, plaids and rings had no escapin'.

Now whist your noise and take your toys, cried he, "My darlin' childer;
 Or my best ballads wid your prate ye'll woefully bewilder."
 Then his "Come-all-ye's" he'd advance wid such a fine comether
 That you might say he took away your sinse and pince together.

[But there! of all the roamin' jacks that trass the counthry over,
 For paramount I'd ever count ould Roddy More the Rover.
 For deed an' I believe that when his sperrit parts his body,
 If he's allowed, he'll draw a crowd in Heaven itself, will Roddy.]

TROTTIN' TO THE FAIR.

Trottin' to the fair

 Seated I declare
 On a single pony.
 How am I to know that
 Molly's safe behind,
 With our heads in oh, that
 Awk 'ard way inclined?
 By her gentle breathin'
 Whisper'd past my ear,
 And her white arms wreathin'
 Warm around me here.

Thus on Dobbin's back
 I discoursed the darling,
 Till upon our track
 Leaped a mongrel snarling,
 Ah! says Moll I'm frightened
 That the pony'll start—
 And her hands she tightened
 Round my happy heart;
 Till I axed her, "May I
 Steal a kiss or so?"
 And my Molly's grey eye
 Did n't answer no.

With no kind "good day" on the way from the many I meet.
Still with looks cold and high they go by, not one brow now unbends,
None holds out his hand of the band of my fairweather friends.

They help'd me to spend to its end all my fine shining store,
They drank to my health and my wealth till both were no more.
And now they are off with a scoff as they leave me behind,

There's rest deep and still on yon hill by our old Chapel's side,
Where I laid you long ago, to my woe, my young one-year's bride.

THE DAUGHTER OF THE ROCK.

As on Killarney's bosom blue
 We lay with lifted oars,
 He challenged with his clarion true
 The silent shores.
 And straight from off her mountain throne
 The Daughter of the Rock
 Took up that challenge, tone by tone,
 With airy mock.
 And twice and thrice from hill to hill
 She tossed it o'er the heather,
 Then drew the notes with one wild thrill
 Together.
 Like pearls of silver dew
 From a fragrant purple flower,
 Echo's secret heart into
 They shower.

We floated on and ever on
 With many a warbled tune,
 Until above the water wan
 Awoke the moon.
 Then with a sudden, strange surprise
 A clearer challenge came
 From out his eager lips, and eyes
 Of ardent flame.
 Like Echo answering his horn,
 At first I mocking met him;
 Till lest e'en counterfeited scorn
 Should fret him.
 From all my heart strings caught,
 Faint as Echo's closing stress,
 Stole the answer that he sighing sought,
 Love's low yes.

THE SAILOR'S BRIDE.

And is he coming home today
 Who all these years has ranged?
 And will he be the same to me,
 Although I so have changed.
 The same again, the same as when
 At first he courting came
 And looked me through with eyes so blue—
 Ah, will he be the same?

I would have dressed in all my best;
 He'd have me wear my worst,
 The faded gown of homespun brown
 In which I met him first.
 My woman's heart would have me smart;
 I'm but a woman still.
 Yet bide, gay gown, come, old one, down;
 Let Donal have his will.

The Southern Star has fetched the Bar,

 Quick, little Donal, to my arms!
 Now on my shoulder stand!
 There, there she sails! He's at the rails.

Mourn not beyond measure, my long absent lover,
 These eyes dim with watching, this trouble-pale mouth,
 As for you they have faded for you they'll recover —
 Your violets, your roses, refreshed after drouth.

Yet I pray you be patient, for, oh, I am tired,
 Too tired, too tired to be closely caressed;
 So take me and soothe me, my love long desired,
 As a mother would lay her own child on her breast.

So long I have starved, oh, a little while longer
 Thus tenderly, slenderly portion my bliss.
 More now were too much, when I'm braver and stronger,
 I'll sigh back your whispers, restore you your kiss.

O see how the shadows in sunshine are fleeting!
 O hark how the robins rejoice in the lane!
 There! lay my thin hand on your heart's happy beating,
 There! lift my tired head to your shoulder again.

MORE OF CLOYNE.

Little sister, whom the Fay
 Hides away within his doon,
 Deep below yon tufted fern
 Oh, list and learn my magic tune.

Long ago, when snared like thee
 By the Shée, my harp and I
 O'er them wove the slumber spell,
 Warbling well its lullaby.

Till with dreamy smiles they sank,
 Rank on rank, before the strain;
 Then I rose from out the rath
 And found my path to earth again.

 Hid below among the Shée,
 List and learn my magic tune,

THE REAPER'S REVENGE.

Oft and oft I dream, astorę,
 With secret sighs and laughter,
 How once you reaped the field before,
 And I came gathering after.
 While tenderly, tenderly with the corn
 Looks of love you threw me;
 Till I stood up with eyes of scorn
 And withered your hope to woo me.

Oft and oft I'm dreaming still,
 With smiles and tears together,
 Of how I stretched so weak and ill,
 Thro' all the wintry weather;
 While tenderly, tenderly still you'd tap,
 Seeking news of Norah;
 Till I grew fonder of your rap
 Than father's voice, acora!

Most I mind the plan conceal'd
 That thro' the spring amused you,
 To wait to find me in the field,
 Where rashly I refused you;
 Then earnestly, earnestly in my eyes
 Gaze till I return'd you
 The look of looks and sigh of sighs
 On the spot where once I spurn'd you.

THE KILLARNEY HUNT.

The hunt is up! and hound and pup
 Are tuning round Killarney;
 The hunt is out! O there's a shout!
 You'd hear it down to Blarney.
 There goes the stag along the crag,
 A Royal now I warrant,
 See how he sails across the rails
 And flies the foaming torrent.

Away to Tork they wind and work,
 Among the whorts and heather.
 The scent's in doubt, now all are out,
 Now hark! they're all together.
 For old Jack Koogh he marked him go
 And waved 'em with his wattle.
 A full George crown they've thrown him down
 With that he'll moist his throttle.

Yoicks! Tally ho! Away they go!
 See how the turf he's skinning.
 He's thro' the brake, he's took the lake,
 And after him they're swimming.
 Their floating ranks are on his flanks,
 They're closing now behind him;
 He feels the land! he's up the strand!
 Now, mind him, oh now mind him!

Hull-hullahoo! they flash in view
 Along the shining shingle;
 In length'ning row they streaming go,
 Now with the shades they mingle;
 While, underneath the evening star,
 A phantom hunt seems flying,
 Now swelling near, now echoing far,
 Now down the breezes dying!

SINCE WE'RE APART.

Since we're apart, since we're apart,
 The weariness and lonely smart
 Are going greatly round my heart;
 Upon my pillow, ere I sleep,
 The full of my two shoes I weep,
 And like a ghost all day I creep.

'Tis what you said you'd never change
 Or with another ever range,
 Now ev'n the Church is cold and strange.
 There side by side our seats we took,
 There side by side we held one book;
 But with another now you look.

And when the service it was o'er,
 We'd walk the meadow's flow'ry floor,
 As we shall walk and walk no more.
 For while beneath the starry glow
 Ye two sit laughing light and low,
 A shade among the shades I go.

MY GARDEN AT THE BACK.

When I came o'er from old Rosstrevor,
 Here to London town,
 A lonesome spell upon me fell
 For Kate and County Down.
 'Twas gloomy toil for her glad smile,
 Grey stone for grassy track;
 Till I took heart at last to start
 A garden at the back.

With country mould at morn and eve,
 Still I piled my plot;
 Then sow'd and set musk, mignonette,
 Pink, rose, forget-me-not.
 Till bees they flew from out the blue,
 And butterflies they'd tack,
 O blessed hour, from flow'r to flow'r
 Of my garden at the back.

Then when I'd but the Christmas rose
 To end the flow'ry race,
 Around the corner came my scorner
 With a sadden'd face.
 The cause to guess of her distress
 For sure I was not slack,
 And now her eyes make Paradise
 Of my garden at the back.

On the deck of Lynch's boat, here I sit in woeful plight,
Through my sighing all the day and my weeping all the night.
Were it not that full of grief from my people forth I go,
O, 'tis royally I'd sing all thy praises, sweet Mayo.

When I dwelt at home in peace, and my gold did much abound,
In the midst of fair young maids, how the Spanish ale went round!
Oh! the change from that gay day thus, across the ocean flow,
To be laid in Santa Cruz far and far from sweet Mayo.

Sadly changed are Irrul's girls; very proud they've grown and high
With their patches and their powder, for I pass their buckles by;
But their airs I little heed, since the Lord will have it so
That I'm forced to foreign lands far and far from sweet Mayo.

'Tis my grief that Patrick Loughlin is not Earl in Irrul still,
And that Brian Duff no more rules as lord upon the hill,
And that Colonel Hugh O' Grady should be lying dead and low,
And I sailing, sailing swift from the County of Mayo.

(A Love Song from the Irish Gaelic.)

When westward I'm called,
 'Tis not east I'd be going.
 Should I sup the salt wave
 With the pure spring to hand,
 Or prefer the base weed
 To the richest rose blowing,
 Or not follow my own love

Oh, my heart is a fountain
 Of sorrow unspoken,
 A virgin nut-cluster
 Untimely down torn!
 And oh, but my heart
 Flutters bleeding and broken,
 Like a bird beating out
 Its wild life on a thorn.

His cheek is the hue
 Of the blackberry blossom,
 And blackberry blue.
 His dark tresses above;
 And I'm cryin' without
 Who should lie in his bosom
 And I doubt and I doubt
 If he's true to his love.

'Tis time I should part you,
 Proud, hurrying City;
 For your tongues they cut sharper

 And your hearts than that same
 Are more hardened to pity;

THE DEATH OF GENERAL WOLFE.

"The boast of heraldry, the pomp of power
 And all that beauty, all that wealth ere gave
 Await alike the inevitable hour—
 The paths of glory lead but to the grave."
 Thus great Wolfe sighed,
 While on muffled oar
 We darkling crossed St Laurence' whispering tide
 For the foeman's unguarded shore.

Then, one by one, far up the fearful steep
 We toiled and toiled through all the live long night;
 Till on the Frenchmen startled out of sleep
 We flashed in long drawn phalanx from the height.
 Enraged Montcalm
 Bade his host advance—
 And on the frowning heights of Abraham
 Closed the champions of England and France.

Oh, fierce we fought until a fatal ball
 Found Wolfe's brave bosom through the battle smoke.
 Then charged the Scots with fiery slogan call
 And backward reeled the French and broke.
 "See! Sir, they run!"
 "Who?" he faintly cried.
 "The French." "Now God be praised, our arms have won!"
 And contented he turned and died.

THE SONGS ERIN SINGS.

"Music shall outlive all the songs of the birds."

Old Irish.

I've heard the lark's cry thrill the sky o'er the meadows of Lusk,
And the first joyous gush of the thrush from Adare's April wood,
At thy lone music's spell, Philomel, magic stricken I've stood,
When in Espan afar star on star trembled out of the dusk.

While Dunkerron's blue dove murmured love 'neath her nest I have sighed,
And by mazy Culdaff with a laugh mocked the cuckoo's refrain,
Derrycarn's dusky bird I have heard piping joy hard by pain
And the swan's last lament sobbing sent over Moyle's mystic tide.

Yet as bright shadows pass from the glass of the darkening lake,
As the rose's rapt sigh must die, when the zephyr is stilled;
In oblivion grey sleeps each lay that those birds ever trilled,
But the songs Erin sings from her strings shall immortally wake.

In the wan, mistful morning to Ocean's wild gales
Afar from her scorning I loose my black sails;
For my kiss was scarce cold on her cheek when she turned
And my love for the gold of a renegade spurned.

Under cloud chill and pallid, while hollow winds moan,
Lies alas! our green-valleyed, purple-peaked Innishowen;
For as if my sad case she were sharing to-day,
All her glory and grace she hides weeping away.

Farewell, Lake of Shadows! Bunrana, farewell
To your thymy sea meadows, your fern-fluttering dell!
Adieu, Donegal! o'er the waters death wan,
Under Heaven's heavy pall, like a ghost I am gone.

(Air. "I will raise my sail black, mistfully in the morning")

Andante.

The musical score is written for voice and piano. It consists of five systems of music. Each system has a vocal line on a treble clef staff and a piano accompaniment on a grand staff (treble and bass clefs). The key signature has one flat (B-flat) and the time signature is 2/4. The tempo is marked 'Andante.' and the dynamics include 'p' (piano), 'cresc.' (crescendo), and 'f' (forte). There are also markings for '3' (triplets) and 'p.' (piano). The lyrics are: '1. In the wan, mist-ful morn-ing to Ocean's wild gales A - far from her scorn-ing I loose my black sails; For my kiss was scarce cold on her cheek when she turn'd And my love for the gold of a false stran-ger spurn'd. THE LEAFY COOL-KELLURE.

Just between the day and dark,
 O'er the green of the glimmering Park,
 Lost in heav'n one lonely lark
 Soared and poured his passion pure;
 Till the long, sweet, shivering strain
 Took, methought, this meaning plain,
 As it showered like silver rain
 Softly into the Cool-kellure.

How we prayed and prayed of old,
 Blackbird, with the crown of gold,
 That you'd cross the waters cold
 Erin's sorrows at last to cure.
 But you sought and sought in vain
 Succour out of France and Spain,
 None would help you here to reign,
 Blackbird, over the Cool-kellure.

Yet the Blackbird far above
 Now I rank the Royal Dove
 Who, at last for Erin's love
 Wreathing with shamrock her bosom pure,
 O'er the dreadful flood's decrease
 Flutters with its spray of peace
 To her bow'r of Queenly ease
 Nestling under the Cool-kellure.

THE LEAFY COOL-KELLURE.*

(Air. The white-breasted boy.)

Allegretto.

The first system of music consists of a vocal line on a single staff and a piano accompaniment on two staves. The key signature has two flats (B-flat and E-flat), and the time signature is 2/4. The piano part begins with a p (piano) dynamic marking.

The second system features a vocal line with the lyrics "1. Just be - tween — the day and dark, O'er the" and a piano accompaniment. The key signature and time signature remain the same. A mf (mezzo-forte) dynamic marking is placed above the vocal line, and a p (piano) marking is below the piano accompaniment.

The third system continues the vocal line with the lyrics "green of the glimm'-ring Park, Lost in heav'n — one lone-ly" and the piano accompaniment. A v (crescendo) hairpin is placed above the vocal line.

The fourth system concludes the vocal line with the lyrics "lark Soared and pcurd his pas-sion pure; Till the" and the piano accompaniment. A v (crescendo) hairpin is placed above the vocal line.
