TYRANT LOVE.

EDWARD MAC DOWELL.
Op. 60. N<sup>o</sup> 1.

Lightly, yet with tenderness. (♩=about 88.)

mp pp p pp

Where e'er Love be, Ty-rant he, — With-out mē- ci;

retard p

Plead as thou may, Ah me! He ne'er thy tears will see, Ah me! Ah me!

FAIR SPRINGTIDE.

EDWARD MAC DOWELL.
Op. 60. N<sup>o</sup> 2.

Very slow, with pathos. (♩ = about 84.)

Fair Spring-tide com - - eth once a - gain —

Stirs the sap in lone - ly trees — To wake a-gain the bit-ter joy Of love — That mort - al eye n'er sees, The bit-ter joy of love — Why wak - - en those — who increase ff

sleep so sound — Why cause a - gain — the tears to dim. pp

flow. — Ah Spring-tide thou dost touch the quick Of ev' - ry crea-ture

pp

here be-low. Ah Spring-tide! Ah Spring - tide! Why wak-en those who ff

diminish and broaden sleep so sound And cause the tears to flow. Yet though the ppp

dim. gradually -

ppp

tears be bitt - er - sweet, They come like sooth - - ing

ppp

Sum-merrain And lo! the mournful des - ert heart Grows green with love-lorn pain —

TO THE GOLDEN ROD.

EDWARD MAC DOWELL.
Op. 60. N<sup>o</sup> 3.

With tender grace. (♩ = about 52.)

p

A liss - ome maid with p lightly

tows - eled hair As soft as e'er a squir - rel's vair, With

pp

ne'er a care, All silk - y fair, She sways to ev' - ry

woo - - - ing air. She

mp

flaunts her gold - en gown with grace And laughs in stur-dy softer

Aut - umn's face, A ray of sun - shine in the race That ppp mp p

ends with hoar - y wint - - er's pace With-

ppp

As at first

in my heart O, maid - en fair, Old Wint - er's frown can p lightly pp increase ne'er ef-face Thy way-ward grace so de - - - bon-f lightly

air Thou prin-cess of a nom-ad race.
