Partitur

M. Apr. 1736 - 28<sup>te</sup> = Fassung.

Bn: Partite. 27. 1736.

Ch. Ch. Ch. M. Apr: 1747. 5

This image shows a page from a handwritten musical manuscript. The music is written for two voices (treble and bass) and piano. The notation uses a system of vertical stems and horizontal strokes to represent pitch and rhythm. The lyrics are written in a non-Latin script, likely Hebrew, placed below the corresponding musical lines. The manuscript is filled with dense, repetitive patterns, particularly in the vocal parts, which are characterized by short, rapid note heads. The piano part consists of a single line of notes. There are several sections of music, each with its own unique pattern. The script used for the lyrics is fluid and cursive, often filling the spaces between the musical lines. The overall appearance is that of a personal or working manuscript, possibly a setting of a liturgical text.

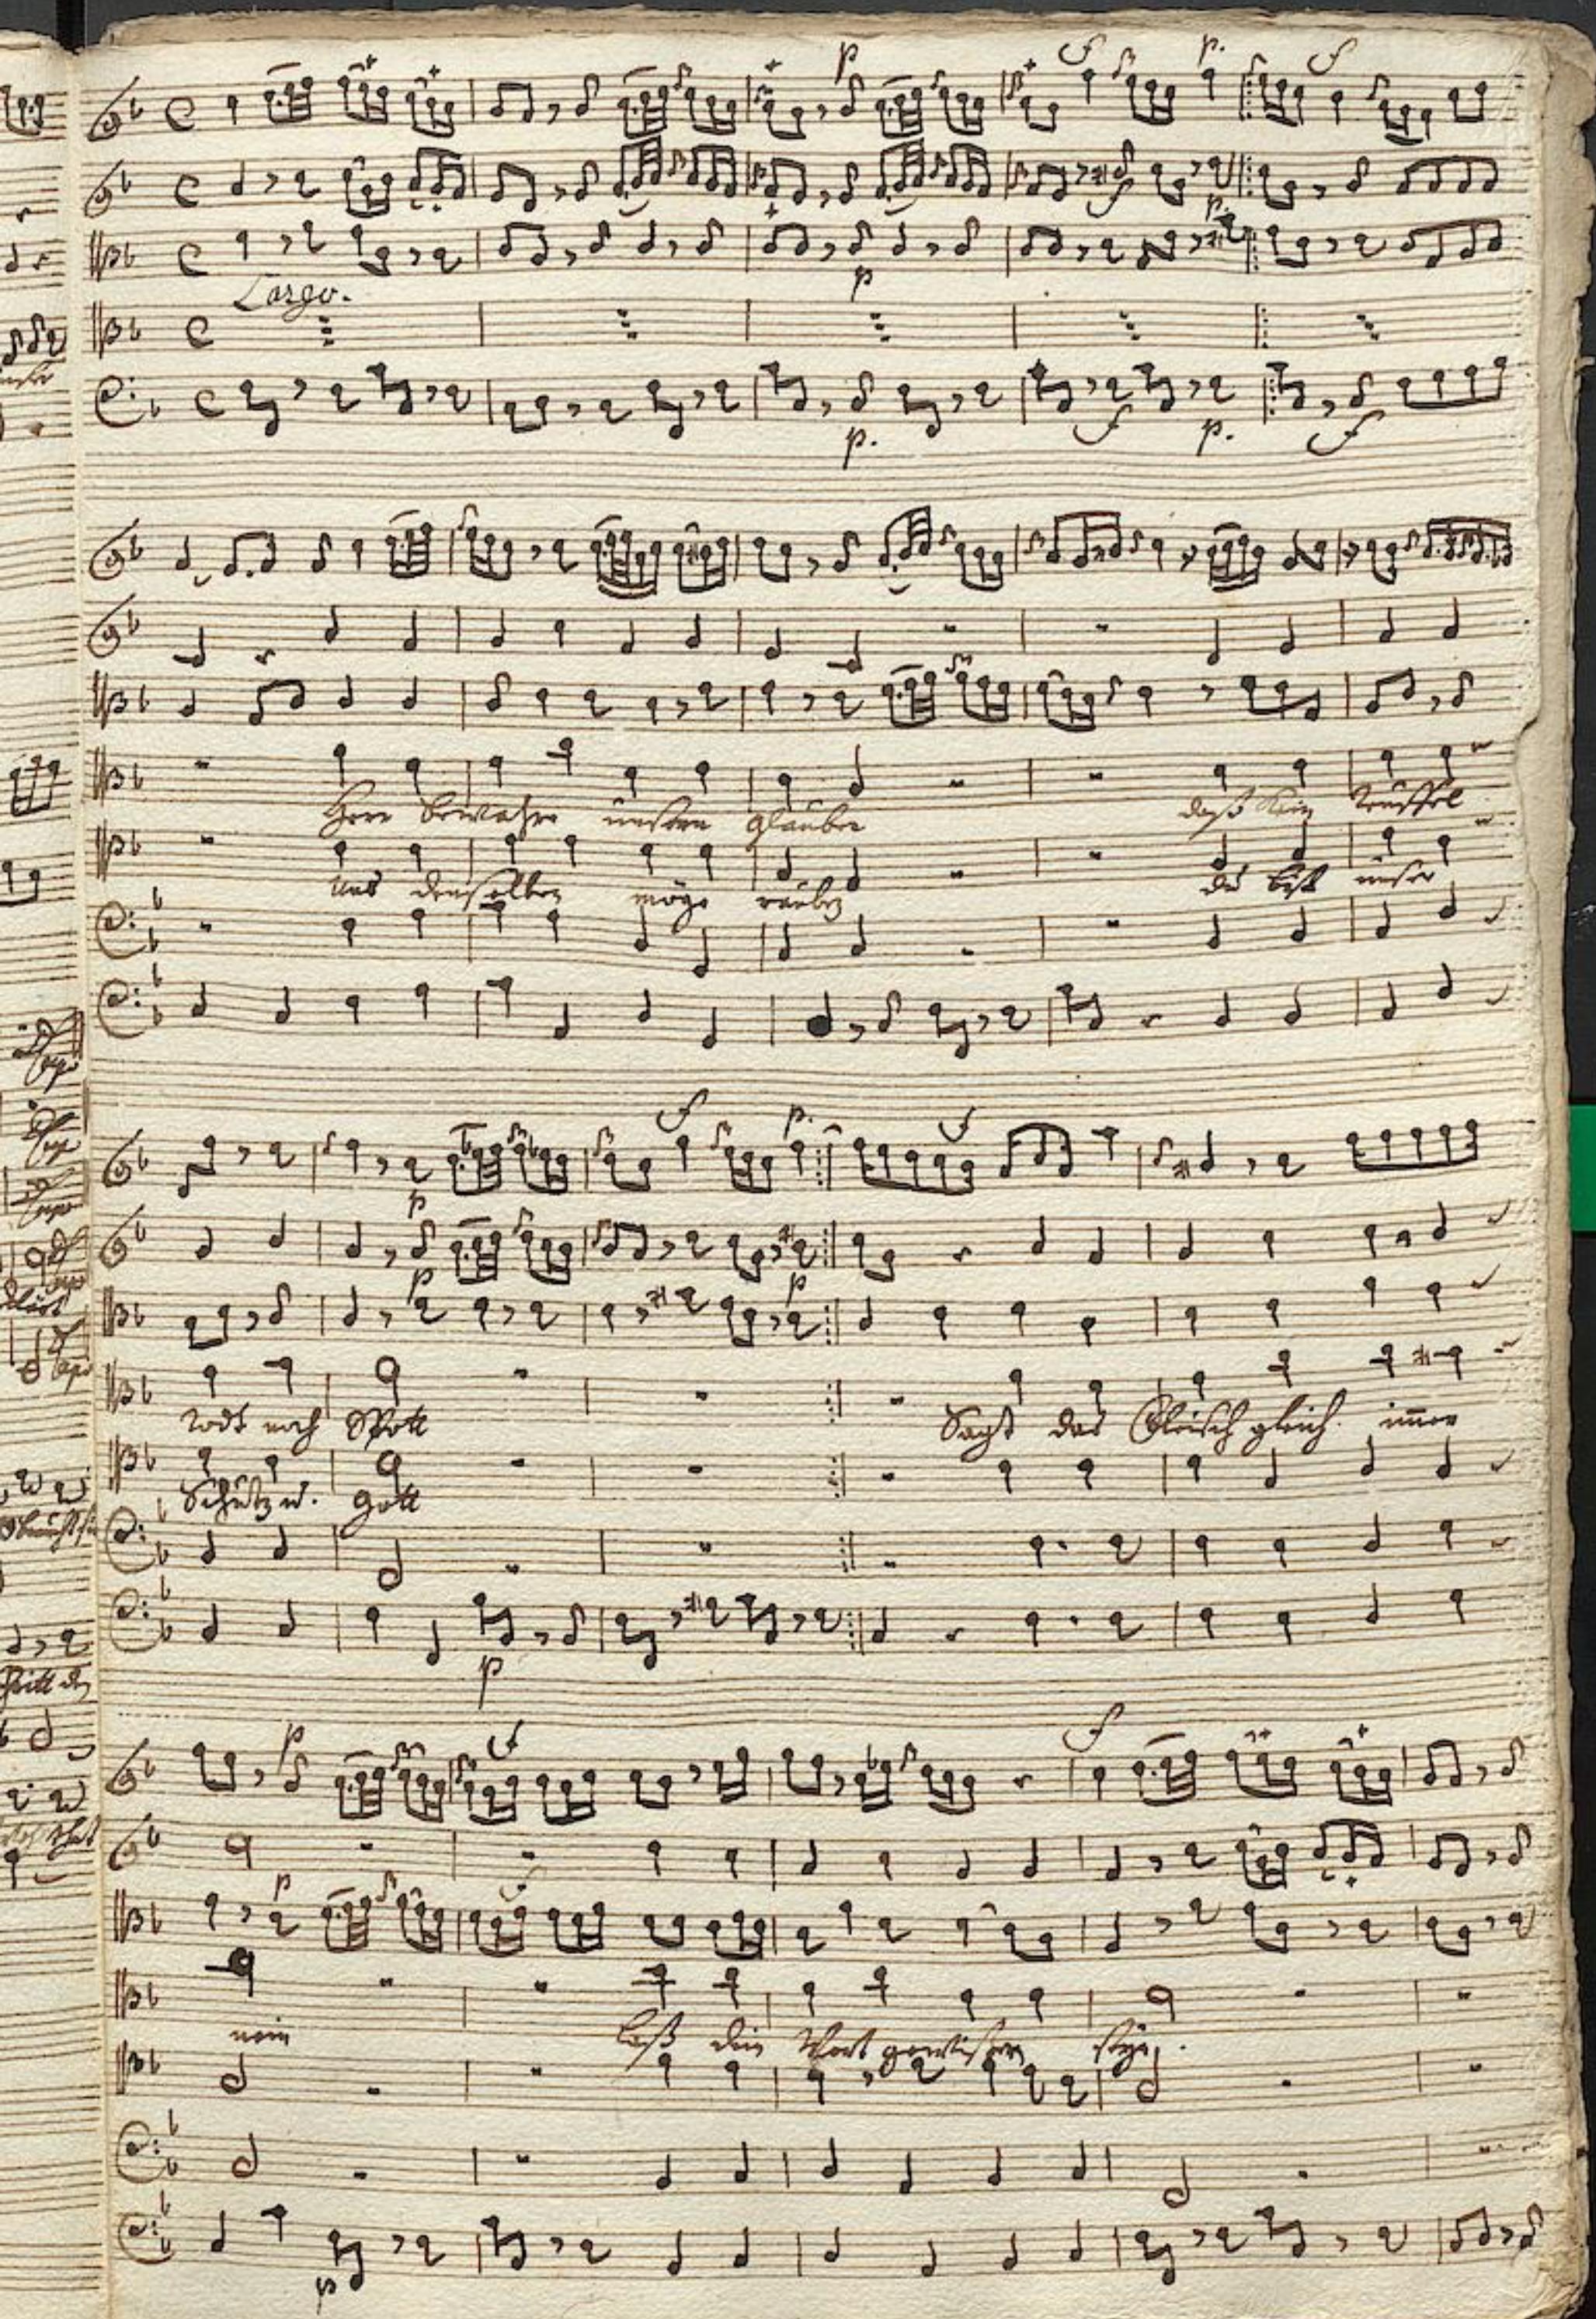

A handwritten musical score for four voices, likely a setting of the "Four Hymn Tones" (Tetrahydron). The score consists of four staves, each with a different vocal range and style. The top two staves are soprano and alto, while the bottom two are bass and tenor. The music is written in common time. The notation includes various note heads (crotchets, quavers, etc.) and rests. There are several lyrics in German, such as "Gott ist in der Stille", "Lobt Gott", and "Herr Jesu Christ". Some lyrics are written above the staff, while others are written below or to the right. The score is written on aged paper with black ink.

A handwritten musical score on aged paper, likely from the 18th century. The score consists of approximately 12 staves of music, each with a different instrumentation. The instruments include strings (Violin I, Violin II, Cello, Bass), woodwinds (Oboe, Clarinet, Bassoon), brass (Trumpet, Trombone), and a continuo part. The music is written in common time, with various key signatures (G major, A major, D major, E major, F# major) indicated by sharps and flats. Dynamic markings such as 'Largo.', 'Contino.', 'Allegro.', 'p.', 'Recit.', 'Molto adagio', 'Brass parts.', 'C.', and 'Capo' are scattered throughout the score. The manuscript shows signs of age, including yellowing and foxing.

A handwritten musical score for voice and piano. The score consists of ten staves of music. The top two staves are for the voice, indicated by a soprano C-clef. The bottom eight staves are for the piano, indicated by a bass F-clef. The music is written in common time. The key signature varies throughout the piece, with sections in G major, A major, and B major. The vocal part includes lyrics in German. The piano part features various harmonic progressions and rhythmic patterns. The score is written on aged, yellowed paper.
