Dost thou re-mem-ber fair-est one, The time when first we

ped

met;

Those gol-den mo-ments of the heart. I never may for-

- get To me they are the sun - ny spots That come 'mid clouds of gloom And cheer me by their genial ray While journeying to the tomb.

2

Earth is a cold and cheerless place,
 To one who walks alone
 Each needs another's sympathy,
 Of look, and heart and tone
 And I, if blessed with thy sweet smile
 Must ever happy be.
 And smiles of deep abiding love
 In turn I offer thee.

3

And wilt thou grant the boon I crave;
 Wilt thou my offering take
 Shall we be linked by those sweet ties
 The heart's affections make Ties which unseen, are yet so strong
 No earthly power can sever
 That bind us on the shores of time
 Hereafter and forever.
