CORO— Signori e Dame della Corte, Paggi, Guardie, Montanari, Soldati, Frati di S. Giacomo e Pellegrini.

The subject of this libretto which has inspired Donizetti with one of his most dramatic and solidly elaborated operatic works is a fictitious tale of unhappy love built up on the slight historical foundation of the passion illicitly entertained by ALPHONSO XI. of Spain, the conqueror of the Moors, for LEONORA GUZMAN, a lady of great beauty and intellectual gifts, for whose sake he came nigh repudiating his Queen. Leonora was induced to leave her father's roof, and, believing that the King would marry her, a residence was assigned her in the Island of Leon, where she was surrounded with every grace and luxury that could make life delightful. While here she visited the neighbouring monastery of St. James of Compostella, where she inspired a young novice FERNANDO, on the point of taking his vows, with a violent passion, which she herself reciprocates. BALTHAZAR, the prior of the monastery, questions Fernando on the cause of the change which has recently come over him, and elicits a confession of his infatuated attachment. The prior had looked upon Fernando, from his ardent religious zeal, as his successor, and is proportionately shocked at his backsliding. After vainly remonstrating with him, he drives him from the community.

Fernando now becomes a constant visitor of Leonora in her island retreat, whither he is conducted blindfold by an attendant. He presses her at last to become his wife, but she informs him it cannot be, and urges him to forget her and make his way in the world, adopting some career of honour for which she has provided. She then tenders him a scroll containing his commission; he still pleads his suit, when they are interrupted by the arrival of the King, and Fernando is hurried off, taking with him his commission, and ignorant of the cause of his dismissal. The interview between Alphonso and Leonora is one of reproaches on her part for having been deceived into the position of the King's favourite, and on his of protestations of devoted attachment, when they are broken in upon by Balthazar, who is the father of the King's legitimate consort, and who taxes him with the intention of discarding his Queen to marry Leonora, threatening them with the anger of the Church if they do not then and there separate. He is defied by the King and leaves, calling down heaven's vengeance on the guilty couple. Meanwhile the King goes forth to meet the Moorish host, whom he conquers, driving them from the country. Fernando has distinguished himself in the battle, saving the King's life, and is marked out for every honour and distinction. Asked how he shall be rewarded, he replies that he is in love with a lady of the court and wishes for no other guerdon than her hand. The King asks her name, when Leonora appears, and he points to her as the object of his passion. Alphonso had heard that he was being betrayed, but dreamt not it was by his protégé. His vengeance is to unite them, and he orders the ceremony to be at once performed. Fernando is overjoyed, but Leonora's satisfaction is clouded by the thought that her lover is not aware of her position. She charges her attendant to reveal all, but the latter is detained a prisoner by the King's order, and cannot perform her mission. Leonora supposes Fernando to be informed of her antecedents, and to forgive them, when she is finally led to the altar by him. The ceremony is no sooner performed when Fernando, seeking the congratulations of his friends, is destined to be enlightened, but too late for aught but shame and insult. His proffered hand is refused, and he is in the midst of a furious paroxysm of rage, when Balthazar appears, and is told that Fernando has married Leonora. "What! the King's mistress?" he exclaims. Fernando is overwhelmed at the discovery. He seeks the King, publicly hurls the bitterest reproaches at him, and finally breaks his sword, casting the fragments at his feet, and bidding the King take back the honours and benefits conferred on him as the price of infamy. Fernando returns to the monastery, resolved on resuming his vows. Everything is ordered for the ceremony, when he is requested to attend to a young novice who has presented himself at the gates of the convent entreating for shelter and repose. In this stranger he discovers Leonora, who has come to entreat his forgiveness and explain her apparent deception. On finding she was no party to his infamy his passion revives, and he urges her to fly with him. She, on the contrary, exhorts him to devote himself to Heaven, the only safe asylum from the world's sorrows and disappointments, and while he is still uttering vows of devoted love she succumbs to protracted suffering and conflicting emotions, and dies at his feet. The monks come forward and lead Fernando away to fulfil his vows, impressed with the assurance that ere long he will join the unhappy Leonora in another world.

The scene is laid in Spain, in the kingdom of Castille, in the year 1340.

The score is written for piano in a 2/4 time signature with a key signature of two flats (B-flat and E-flat). It consists of six systems of music. The first system begins with a Larghetto tempo marking and a piano dynamic. The second system continues the melodic and harmonic development. The third system features a dynamic range from f to pp, including a section marked ff and f accel. un poco. The fourth system is marked a tempo. p. The fifth system includes a dim. rall. section. The sixth system concludes with a pp dynamic.

Allegretto mosso.

The first system of musical notation consists of two staves. The upper staff is in treble clef and the lower staff is in bass clef. The key signature has two flats (B-flat and E-flat). The music begins with a piano (p) dynamic in the right hand and a pianissimo (pp) dynamic in the left hand. The right hand features a complex, rhythmic pattern of eighth and sixteenth notes, while the left hand provides a steady accompaniment of chords and eighth notes.

The second system continues the musical piece. The right hand maintains its intricate melodic line, and the left hand continues with its accompaniment. The dynamics remain consistent with the first system, with a p in the right hand and pp in the left hand.

The third system shows a change in dynamics. The right hand is marked f (forte) and the left hand is marked f (forte). The music becomes more intense and rhythmic, with both hands playing more active parts.

The fourth system continues with the f (forte) dynamics. The right hand features a series of chords and moving lines, while the left hand provides a dense accompaniment of chords.

The fifth system shows a further increase in intensity. The right hand is marked f (forte) and the left hand is marked fp (fortissimo piano). The music is highly rhythmic and complex.

The sixth system continues with the fp (fortissimo piano) dynamics. The right hand is marked fp and the left hand is marked f. The music is highly rhythmic and complex.

The seventh system concludes the piece. The right hand is marked f (forte) and the left hand is marked f (forte). The music is highly rhythmic and complex.

First system of musical notation, featuring a grand staff with treble and bass clefs. The music is in a key with two flats and a 3/4 time signature. It begins with a series of chords and arpeggios in the right hand, while the left hand plays a steady accompaniment of eighth notes.

Second system of musical notation. The right hand continues with complex chordal textures, and the left hand maintains its rhythmic accompaniment. A dynamic marking of f (forte) is present in the second measure.

Third system of musical notation. The right hand features more intricate chordal patterns. Dynamic markings include f (forte) and p (piano) in the left hand.

Fourth system of musical notation. The right hand continues with complex textures. Dynamic markings include p (piano) in both hands.

Fifth system of musical notation. The right hand has a melodic line with grace notes. Dynamic markings include p (piano) and calando (ritardando) in the left hand.

Sixth system of musical notation. The right hand continues with complex textures. Dynamic markings include f (forte) in the left hand.

Seventh system of musical notation. The right hand has a melodic line with grace notes. Dynamic markings include dim. (diminuendo) in the left hand.

First system of the musical score. The right hand (treble clef) features a melodic line with dotted rhythms and slurs. The left hand (bass clef) plays a dense, rhythmic accompaniment of eighth notes. Dynamics include p and q m.

Second system of the musical score. The right hand continues the melodic line. The left hand maintains the rhythmic accompaniment. The tempo marking calando. is present.

Third system of the musical score. The right hand has a melodic line with slurs. The left hand continues the accompaniment. Dynamics include dim.

Fourth system of the musical score. The right hand has a melodic line with a flat sign. The left hand continues the accompaniment.

Fifth system of the musical score. The right hand has a melodic line with slurs. The left hand continues the accompaniment. Dynamics include pp, cresc., fp >, and p.

Sixth system of the musical score. The right hand has a melodic line with slurs. The left hand continues the accompaniment. Dynamics include p.

Seventh system of the musical score. The right hand has a melodic line with slurs. The left hand continues the accompaniment. Dynamics include fp > and dim.

First system of musical notation, featuring a grand staff with treble and bass clefs. The key signature has two flats (B-flat and E-flat). The music includes dynamic markings p and f, and various articulation marks such as accents and slurs.

Second system of musical notation, continuing the piece. It features dynamic markings p and ff, and includes slurs and accents.

Third system of musical notation, featuring dynamic markings ff, p, and ff. It includes slurs and accents.

Fourth system of musical notation, featuring dynamic markings ff and p. It includes slurs and accents.

Fifth system of musical notation, featuring dynamic markings ff. It includes slurs and accents.

Sixth system of musical notation, featuring dynamic markings ff. It includes slurs and accents.

Seventh system of musical notation, featuring dynamic markings pp and p. It includes slurs and accents.

First system of musical notation, featuring a treble and bass clef. The key signature has two flats. The music includes dynamic markings ff, p, and f. The bass line features a prominent eighth-note accompaniment.

Second system of musical notation, continuing the piece with dynamic markings p, ff, and p. The texture is dense with many notes in both staves.

Third system of musical notation, featuring dynamic markings ff and f. The bass line continues with its characteristic eighth-note pattern.

Fourth system of musical notation, featuring dynamic markings f and ff. The music is highly rhythmic and dense.

Fifth system of musical notation, featuring dynamic markings f and ff. The piece continues with its characteristic rhythmic intensity.

Sixth system of musical notation, marked pù mosso. and f. The tempo and dynamics change, with the bass line becoming more active.

Seventh system of musical notation, marked ff. The piece concludes with a powerful, dense texture in both staves.

First system of musical notation, featuring a treble and bass clef with complex rhythmic patterns and dynamic markings such as f.

Second system of musical notation, featuring a treble and bass clef with complex rhythmic patterns and dynamic markings such as f.

Third system of musical notation, featuring a treble and bass clef with complex rhythmic patterns, trills (tr), and dynamic markings such as f.

Fourth system of musical notation, featuring a treble and bass clef with complex rhythmic patterns.

Fifth system of musical notation, featuring a treble and bass clef with complex rhythmic patterns.

Sixth system of musical notation, featuring a treble and bass clef with complex rhythmic patterns.

The fourth system introduces the character Baldassare. The vocal line has a treble clef and a key signature of one flat. The piano accompaniment features a more active eighth-note pattern. The lyrics are written below the vocal line.

LEONORA. >

PIANO.

Ah! mio be - ne, mio te -
 Dear - est trea - sure, dear - est

The first system of music features a vocal line for Leonora in the upper staff and a piano accompaniment in the lower two staves. The vocal line begins with a rest, followed by the lyrics 'Ah! mio be - ne, mio te - Dear - est trea - sure, dear - est'. The piano accompaniment starts with a forte (f) dynamic and includes a trill in the right hand.

The second system continues the vocal line with the lyrics 'so - - ro, il Cie - lo t'in - vi - a, vie - ni ah!
 trea - sure of Hea - ven's be - stow - ing, come, re -'. The piano accompaniment continues with a steady accompaniment pattern.

The third system continues the vocal line with the lyrics 'vien, ch'io vi - va in te, vie - ni, vie-ni, ah! vien,
 - vive my first - ing heart, come, re vie... my heart,'. The piano accompaniment continues with a steady accompaniment pattern.

The fourth system continues the vocal line with the lyrics 'tu sei gio-ja all' al - ma mi - a, ter-ra e Ciel tu sei per thrill each sense with rap - tures glow - ing, thou on earth my hea - ven'. The piano accompaniment continues with a steady accompaniment pattern.

The musical score consists of six systems of grand staff notation. Each system includes a treble clef staff and a bass clef staff. The key signature is one flat (B-flat), and the time signature is 6/8. The first system is marked Vivace. (Extra la corte.) and begins with a piano (p) dynamic in the bass staff, which then crescendos (cresc.) to fortissimo (ff). The right hand starts with a whole note chord. The second system continues the piano accompaniment with a piano (p) dynamic. The third system features a fortissimo (ff) dynamic in the bass staff. The fourth system returns to a piano (p) dynamic. The fifth system has a fortissimo (f) dynamic in the bass staff. The sixth system concludes with a fortissimo (ff) dynamic in the bass staff. Various performance markings such as accents (>) and slurs are present throughout the score.

First system of a piano score. The right hand features a melodic line with slurs and accents, while the left hand provides a rhythmic accompaniment with chords and single notes. Dynamics include p, f, and ff.

Second system of a piano score. The right hand continues with a melodic line, and the left hand has a steady accompaniment. Dynamics include p.

Third system of a piano score. The right hand has a melodic line with slurs and accents. The left hand has a rhythmic accompaniment. Dynamics include f and p. The instruction (ad un cenno del Re tutti siedono.) is written above the staff.

Fourth system of a piano score. The right hand has a melodic line with slurs and accents. The left hand has a rhythmic accompaniment. Dynamics include p.

Fifth system of a piano score. The right hand has a melodic line with slurs and accents. The left hand has a rhythmic accompaniment. Dynamics include f and ff.

Sixth system of a piano score. The right hand has a melodic line with slurs and accents. The left hand has a rhythmic accompaniment. Dynamics include rallent. and p.

(B) PASSO A TRE.

Andante. Larghetto.

PIANO.

Allegretto.

The first system of musical notation consists of two staves. The upper staff is in treble clef and the lower staff is in bass clef. Both are in 2/4 time and the key signature has two sharps (F# and C#). The music begins with a series of chords in the bass and a melodic line in the treble. Dynamics include f (forte) and p (piano).

The second system continues the piece. It features trills (tr) in the upper staff and a dynamic shift from f to p in the lower staff.

The third system shows further melodic development in the upper staff with trills (tr) and a steady accompaniment in the lower staff.

The fourth system includes dynamic markings of f and p in both staves, with a mix of chords and moving lines.

The fifth system continues with complex chordal textures in both staves, maintaining the Allegretto tempo.

The sixth system features a variety of rhythmic patterns and chordal structures in both staves.

The seventh system concludes the piece with trills (tr) in the upper staff and triplets (3) in the lower staff. The piece ends with a final chord in both staves.

First system of musical notation, featuring a grand staff with treble and bass clefs. The right hand plays a complex, multi-voiced texture with many notes, while the left hand plays a simpler accompaniment. A dynamic marking p is present in the lower left.

Second system of musical notation, continuing the piece with similar textures in both hands.

Third system of musical notation, showing a change in dynamics with a marking of f p in the lower right.

Fourth system of musical notation, featuring the vocal line in the bass clef. The lyrics "cre - - - scu - - - do." are written below the notes.

Fifth system of musical notation, with a dynamic marking of dim. in the lower right.

First system of musical notation. The right hand (treble clef) features a complex, rapid sixteenth-note pattern. The left hand (bass clef) has a simpler accompaniment with dynamic markings f and p.

Second system of musical notation, continuing the intricate sixteenth-note texture in the right hand and the accompaniment in the left hand.

Third system of musical notation, showing further development of the rapid sixteenth-note passages in the right hand.

Fourth system of musical notation, ending with a double bar line and repeat signs in both staves. The right hand has a dynamic marking f.

Moderato.

Fifth system of musical notation, marked Moderato. The right hand has a dynamic marking f. The tempo and dynamics change significantly from the previous systems.

Sixth system of musical notation, continuing the Moderato section with various dynamic markings like f and v.

Seventh system of musical notation, concluding the Moderato section with a final double bar line and repeat signs.

First system of musical notation, featuring a treble and bass clef. The treble clef part begins with a forte (f) dynamic and contains several slurs and accents. The bass clef part features a complex, rhythmic accompaniment with many beamed notes.

Second system of musical notation, continuing the piece. The treble clef part has a forte (f) dynamic and includes slurs and accents. The bass clef part continues with a dense, rhythmic accompaniment.

Third system of musical notation. The treble clef part features a forte (ff) dynamic and includes slurs and accents. The bass clef part continues with a dense, rhythmic accompaniment.

Fourth system of musical notation. The treble clef part begins with an accel. (accelerando) marking and includes slurs and accents. The bass clef part continues with a dense, rhythmic accompaniment.

Fifth system of musical notation. The treble clef part begins with a Meno allegro. marking and includes slurs and accents. The bass clef part starts with a piano (p) dynamic and continues with a dense, rhythmic accompaniment.

Sixth system of musical notation. The treble clef part continues with a dense, rhythmic accompaniment. The bass clef part continues with a dense, rhythmic accompaniment.

Seventh system of musical notation. The treble clef part continues with a dense, rhythmic accompaniment. The bass clef part continues with a dense, rhythmic accompaniment.

The first system of musical notation consists of two staves. The upper staff is in treble clef and contains a complex melodic line with many sixteenth and thirty-second notes, including trills and grace notes. The lower staff is in bass clef and provides a harmonic accompaniment with chords and moving bass lines.

The second system continues the piece. It features a dynamic marking of f (forte) in the bass staff. A key signature change to one flat (B-flat) is indicated by a b: symbol above the treble staff. The music continues with intricate melodic patterns and accompaniment.

The third system shows further development of the musical themes. The melodic line in the treble staff remains highly active, while the bass staff provides a steady accompaniment. The overall texture is dense and rhythmic.

The fourth system continues the piece. The melodic line in the treble staff features many slurs and accents, indicating a fast and technically demanding passage. The bass staff accompaniment remains consistent in style.

The fifth system shows the continuation of the piece. The melodic line in the treble staff is highly rhythmic and features many slurs. The bass staff accompaniment provides a solid foundation for the melody.

The sixth system continues the piece. The melodic line in the treble staff is highly rhythmic and features many slurs. The bass staff accompaniment provides a solid foundation for the melody.

The seventh system concludes the piece with a Coda. The tempo and mood are marked CODA. Vivace. The music changes to a 2/4 time signature and features a more rhythmic, march-like feel. Dynamic markings of f (forte) and p (piano) are used throughout the section.

The first system of musical notation consists of two staves. The upper staff is in treble clef and the lower staff is in bass clef. The key signature has two sharps (F# and C#). The music features a complex texture with many chords and some melodic lines. Dynamics include f and p.

The second system of musical notation consists of two staves. The upper staff is in treble clef and the lower staff is in bass clef. The key signature has two sharps. The music continues with similar complexity. Dynamics include f, p, and più mosso.

The third system of musical notation consists of two staves. The upper staff is in treble clef and the lower staff is in bass clef. The key signature has two sharps. The music continues with similar complexity. Dynamics include p.

The fourth system of musical notation consists of two staves. The upper staff is in treble clef and the lower staff is in bass clef. The key signature has two sharps. The music continues with similar complexity. Dynamics include cre and scen.

The fifth system of musical notation consists of two staves. The upper staff is in treble clef and the lower staff is in bass clef. The key signature has two sharps. The music continues with similar complexity. Dynamics include do. and f.

The sixth system of musical notation consists of two staves. The upper staff is in treble clef and the lower staff is in bass clef. The key signature has two sharps. The music continues with similar complexity. Dynamics include p.

The seventh system of musical notation consists of two staves. The upper staff is in treble clef and the lower staff is in bass clef. The key signature has two sharps. The music continues with similar complexity. Dynamics include p.

First system of musical notation, featuring a treble and bass clef. The treble clef contains a melodic line with dynamic markings f, f, p, f, and p. The bass clef contains a rhythmic accompaniment.

Second system of musical notation, continuing the piece with dynamic markings f, p, f, and p.

Third system of musical notation, featuring dynamic markings p and p.

Fourth system of musical notation, continuing the melodic and accompaniment lines.

Fifth system of musical notation, including the lyrics cre and scen under the vocal line.

Sixth system of musical notation, including the lyrics do and f under the vocal line.

Seventh system of musical notation, concluding the page with melodic and accompaniment lines.

The first system of the score consists of two staves. The upper staff features a melodic line with eighth and sixteenth notes, including accents and slurs. The lower staff provides a harmonic accompaniment with chords and moving bass lines. A dynamic marking of p (piano) is placed above the lower staff.

The second system continues the piece and includes the tempo marking Vivace. above the upper staff. A dynamic marking of f (forte) is placed above the lower staff. The music shows a change in texture with more complex chordal structures.

The third system features a dense texture with many beamed notes in both staves, creating a rich, rhythmic accompaniment. The upper staff has a more active melodic line.

The fourth system continues with a similar dense texture. It includes dynamic markings of f and accents (>) above the lower staff. The piece concludes this section with a double bar line.

The fifth system features a very dense texture with many beamed notes, particularly in the lower staff, creating a powerful rhythmic accompaniment. An accent (>) is placed above the lower staff.

The sixth system concludes the piece. It features a final melodic flourish in the upper staff and a powerful accompaniment in the lower staff. Dynamic markings of f and accents (>) are present. The piece ends with a key signature change to two flats and a final cadence.

(D) FINALE DEL BALLO.

Allegro vivace.

PIANO.

The musical score is written for piano in 2/4 time, featuring a key signature of one flat (B-flat). It consists of seven systems of two staves each. The first system is marked Allegro vivace and begins with a forte (f) dynamic. The second system continues with f dynamics and includes accents. The third system features a consistent pattern of accents. The fourth system also features accents and ends with a forte (f) dynamic. The fifth system introduces trills (tr) in the right hand and piano (p) dynamics in the left hand. The sixth system continues with trills and includes a forte (f) dynamic followed by a piano (p) dynamic. The seventh system concludes the piece with a piano (p) dynamic.

First system of musical notation, featuring a treble and bass clef. The treble clef part contains a complex melodic line with many beamed notes and slurs. The bass clef part contains a simpler accompaniment with block chords and moving lines. A dynamic marking of p (piano) is present in the first measure.

Second system of musical notation, continuing the piece. The treble clef part shows a continuation of the melodic line with some chromaticism. The bass clef part provides harmonic support with chords and moving bass lines. A dynamic marking of f (forte) appears in the second measure.

Third system of musical notation. The treble clef part features a more active melodic line with slurs and accents. The bass clef part continues with a steady accompaniment. Accents (>) are placed over several notes in both staves.

Fourth system of musical notation. The treble clef part has a melodic line with slurs and accents. The bass clef part continues with a consistent accompaniment. Accents (>) are used throughout the system.

Fifth system of musical notation. The treble clef part shows a melodic line with slurs and accents. The bass clef part continues with a consistent accompaniment. Accents (>) are used throughout the system.

Sixth system of musical notation. The treble clef part features a melodic line with a triplet of notes in the second measure. The bass clef part continues with a consistent accompaniment. A dynamic marking of p (piano) is present in the first measure.

Seventh system of musical notation. The treble clef part features a melodic line with slurs and accents. The bass clef part continues with a consistent accompaniment. Accents (>) are used throughout the system.

First system of musical notation, featuring a treble and bass clef with a key signature of one sharp (F#). The music consists of a melodic line in the treble and a harmonic accompaniment in the bass.

Second system of musical notation, continuing the piece with similar melodic and harmonic structures.

Third system of musical notation, including a dynamic marking of p (piano) in the bass staff.

Fourth system of musical notation, featuring dynamic markings of ff (fortissimo) and cresc. (crescendo) in the bass staff.

Fifth system of musical notation, including dynamic markings of f (forte) and p (piano) in the bass staff.

Sixth system of musical notation, featuring a dynamic marking of p (piano) in the bass staff.

Seventh system of musical notation, including dynamic markings of f (forte) and p (piano) in the bass staff.

First system of musical notation, featuring a treble and bass clef. The treble clef part contains a melodic line with various intervals and dynamics, including a forte (f) marking. The bass clef part provides a harmonic accompaniment with chords and moving lines.

Second system of musical notation, continuing the piece. The treble clef part shows a steady melodic flow with accents. The bass clef part maintains a consistent accompaniment pattern.

Third system of musical notation, showing a change in dynamics to forte (f) in the treble clef part. The bass clef part continues with its accompaniment.

Fourth system of musical notation, marked piano (p) in the treble clef part. The bass clef part features a dense, rhythmic accompaniment with many chords.

Fifth system of musical notation, continuing the piano (p) section. The treble clef part has a melodic line with slurs, and the bass clef part has a complex accompaniment.

Sixth system of musical notation, showing the continuation of the piano (p) section. The treble clef part has a melodic line with slurs, and the bass clef part has a complex accompaniment.

Seventh system of musical notation, marked forte (f) in the bass clef part. The treble clef part has a melodic line with slurs, and the bass clef part has a complex accompaniment.

First system of musical notation, featuring a grand staff with treble and bass clefs. The music consists of dense chordal textures and rhythmic patterns. A dynamic marking of ff is present in the bass line.

Second system of musical notation, including a CODA. section. The music features dynamic markings of p and ff in both staves.

Third system of musical notation, continuing the piece with dynamic markings of ff and p.

Fourth system of musical notation, marked p and cresc. in the bass line. The tempo marking *p*ù mosso. is written above the treble staff.

Fifth system of musical notation, featuring a dynamic marking of f in the bass line.

Sixth system of musical notation, marked p and cresc. in the bass line.

Seventh system of musical notation, marked f in the bass line.

This image displays a page of musical notation for a piano piece, consisting of eight systems of grand staff notation. Each system includes a treble clef and a bass clef. The music is written in a key signature of two sharps (F# and C#). The notation includes various musical symbols such as notes, rests, slurs, and dynamic markings like f (forte) and accents (>). The piece features a complex texture with multiple voices in both hands, including arpeggiated figures and dense chordal passages. The notation is arranged in a standard format for a piano score, with the right hand on top and the left hand on the bottom of each grand staff.
